Vienna, Nov. 8. The Letters from Hungary give an account, That the Turkish Troops are gone into Winter-Quarters, and that the preparations they are making against Spring are very great; That Count Teckely was Encamped with about 9000 Men near Asfol, not having quitted the Berg-Towns, as was reported; and that the Imperial Army continued in its Camp on the Waig, where it was thought they would not remain much longer, for that the ill Weather would oblige them to go into Winter-Quarters. Count Teckely's Deputies here go on with their Negotiation, and while this lasts (though few believe it will have any effect) the Cessation of Hostilities will continue. The said Deputies, upon their first arrival here, promised the restitution of the Berg-Towns, but now they declare, That the Port will not suffer Count Teckely to quit them. This being the State of things, the Emperor is resolved to provide for War, and to enable him to make the preparations necessary, a Tax will be raised throughout his Hereditary Countreys, of one per Cent. that is, every person who is worth 100 Pounds, must pay one, and so proportionable. The Count de Martenitz parted hence, some days since, for Italy.

Cologne, Nov. 16. The ninth Instant arrived here the Bishop of Strasburg, who was received with all imaginable respect: After some days stay here, he and the French Envoy, the Sieur Tambonneau, intend to go for Liege, to accommodate the affairs of that City. The said French Minister is at present at Cobients, whither he went some days since upon an Express he received from Paris, to confer with the Elector of Trier. Our Letters from Francfort give us hopes that the Treaty will be continued there after the expiration of the Term set by the French Ambassadors in their late Declaration.

Hamburg, Nov 14. About the beginning of this Month 400 Brandenburg Soldiers Embarked on several small Frigats at Gluckstadt, which soon after Sailed from thence, various conjectures being made concerning the Enterprize they had in hand, but none of them proving right; for we have Advice, That they have Landed in East-Frizeland, and have possessed themselves of a place called Greitzeil, which is lookt upon here as an action that may have great consequences, because of the jealoufie it may give to the United Provinces, the Dukes of Luneburg, and others. There seems of late to have been no very good understanding between the Elector of Brandenburg and the said Dukes of Luneburg, and it was some days since reported that their Troops on both sides were in motion, and particularly that 3000 Brandenburgs were marched towards Mecklenburg, to hinder, as was said, any foreign Troops from taking Winter Quarters there, but it's hoped things will not come to extremities between these Princes, and that the differences between them will be amicably composed.

Brussels, Nov. 17. His Excellency is making what provision he can for the security of these Provinces, and has commanded all Officers to be at their respective Commands on the 20th Instant, on pain of being put out of them; and because Luxemburg seems most expos'd, his Excellency has not only resolved to encrease that Garison, as we said in our last, but has ordered three Serjeants Generals of Battalia, to go thither, that so in case of a Siege there may not want General-Officers. The Troops are now receiving a Months Pay, which is the fifth Payment since his Excellencies coming to this Government.

Hague, Nov. 17. Our Letters from Flanders inform us, That Monsieur del Val, whom the Marquis de Grana lately sent to the French Court, has not been able to obtain a prolongation of the Term, and that people are therefore in great trou-
